

An increase in age increases the number of days that patients spend in hospital

A violin boxplot showing the duration of time that different age groups spent in hospital

